The bank of Wahpeton has closed its doors.

NORTHERN Minnesota is badly in need of rain.

A new post-office has been established at West Duluth.

Fire destroyed the business portion of Rice, in Morrison county, on Monday.

The count of the people in England is made in one day. They can't do that in this country.

MONTANA will do her first state voting in October. The Australian system has been adopted.

Look at this remnant of a bursted boom—The tax list of Los Angeles,

Cal., fills 490 columns of nonpareil type.

The Long Prairie Leader is spending its spare time now trying to show up Brainerd in a bad light. It reminds one of an ant jostling up against an elephant.

MINNEAPOLIS is suffering from a log famine, only two mills being in operation. Better bring the mills to Brainerd where they can be operated during the entire season.

It is announced that Miss Emma Bond, the Illinois school teacher who was so terribly abused by tramps at Taylorville, Ill., in 1882, was married to C. E. Jettus, a merchant of Hepher, Kansas, last October.

SENATOR SABIN has secured a divorce from his wife on the grounds that she was addicted to drink. Already rumor has him engaged to a Washington society woman, but the rumor is emphatically denied by his friends.

Isn't it about time the offensive

Macdonald, of the St. Cloud land office, was asked to hand in his resignation? There are plenty of good local citizens who would like to take the responsibility off his hands, we dare say.

The unprecedented happenings of the present year so far are the Samson disaster, probably the greatest of its kind, the rescue of the passengers of the Danmark, the sailing of the steamer Hawkhurst 2,300 while burning, and last the Johnson horror.

We want to ask the Journal if there has been a land notice published in a republican paper in Brainerd since

Mac, and his gang took charge of the St. Cloud land office. And still he claims nine-tenths of the notices have been published in republican papers.

A BRAKEMAN named Garrett was impaled on a link which passed completely through his abdomen, at Duluth. "Well, let 'er go Gallagher," was his cool reply when told by the physician that he was fatally injured, and he died in a few moments after.

On account of a $1,600 saloon license at Jamestown, the local liquor vendors will be obliged to close up, and the papers claim that work on the water works extensions will be stopped on account of the loss of the revenue therefrom. Water and whisky go hand in hand in that town it seems.

The law requiring weights and measures to be sealed every year was amended by the legislature by striking out the words "on or before the first day of June, annually." I believe, says an exchange, that Whines for its Pap.

Mr. Macdonald is not now, and never has been, register of the land office at St. Cloud, and hence has had nothing to do with the publication of notices. But there is no reasonable ground for complaint in this direction anyway, as fully nine-tenths of the notices published in this land district, since the St. Cloud land office was placed under its present management, have been published in republican papers.—Journal.

The Journal does not believe what it states when it says that C. F. Macdonald has had nothing to do with the publication of notices. While the law may say that the register shall dictate or place the notices we are not so foolish as to think that Mr.

Macdonald has had nothing to do with the rotten policy of that land office. Notices have been sent out from the office of the clerk of the court in this city with the request written on the margin to publish them in the Dispatch or the Tribune, (because the settler took that paper and did not take the democratic Journal), and what was the result? Why, they came back with the word "Journal" written in red ink over the clerks' handwriting, and the settler was forced to submit, and to pay his money for the publication to a journal which he never saw. We will admit that Bro.

Stivers has "no reasonable ground for complaint," but the general public has,

and the sooner the rotten outfit is turned out of that land office and good men, whose sole aim is not to see that the entire patronage is diverted into one channel, placed in charge the better it will be. We are not surprised to see Bro. Stivers when he thinks that someone is going to turn his friend Mac, out for he has been worth dollars to him during the past four years and he would like to see him remain during the republican administration also, and he is loath to let the public slip from his mouth, even though it be a test belonging to a party which he did his level best to down at the last election. We are not opposed to democrats holding office where they are white men, but these Doran-Kelly-partisan-dyed-in-the-wool-democratic-officeholders we do want to see removed and we want to see this man Macdonald to be the first to go.

An Indian Outbreak Reported.

The Globe-to-day contains the following:

Mora, Minn., June 13.—An Indian outbreak is reported at Mille Laes

Lake. Even Michelson arrived here from the lake this afternoon and telegraphed Gov. Merriam for assistance. In an interview with Michelson your reporter learned that a Syde named Magnuson had been shot and killed and that six others were killed or missing. He said there was every aspect of a general uprising and unless aid was given at once it was fear that every settler around the lake would be massacred. The Indians have been congregating at the lake for a week or ten days past, and are holding one of their annual wa-dances. There has been blood

A Fine Entertainment.

Next to witnessing a series of thrilling incidents there is nothing so interesting as to see them acted. And the nearer the acting comes to the original in local coloring, characterization and action, the more it will be relished by a spectator. This is the reason why "Lost in London" made such a hit at the opening of Havlin's

Theatre yesterday afternoon and evening. The play is but a series of incidents placed upon a stage and of the creator is showered upon his darling of his genius. In the second act there is one of the best vaudeville entertainments that can be given on the stage.

Many other shows are making money with fewer features in the specialty line than are seen here alone.

"Lost in London," as presented by piratical barnstormers, is no more like Bro. Beers' play than a cross roads' entertainment is like a refined performance on the stage of Wallack during the days of the old regime.

There are the original Pan Pipe

Singers from the north of Britain, whose lightning changes and weird and queer music is the wonder of any one who has never heard them before.

The comedy element is of the purest order, but this is only incidental as it were, to the grand surrounded by all the scenery and material coloring that they would have had in actual life. The essence of the play can be told in almost ten words. All great plays are simple in construction. A passed by, and yet this was the first glimpse of a lady in this city during the last three days. She takes press notes over the long-distance telephone, and, in order to facilitate matters and aid in her directing duties, she has a secretary standing directly behind her. The new president, at the other end, she wears a metal cap, attacheé to which is a receiver that presses close to her left ear. On Monday, during the naval pageant that welcomed the arrival of the president, she distributed the orders of the day from the steam craft, the roar of the artillery, and the chime of Trinity's bells. On Tuesday, during the progress of the military procession, strains of music from the various bands and the hurrahs and hurrahs of the witnessing crowds were plainly borne to her ears.

A CASE where matrimony keeps business in the family, says the Boston Traveller, is found at Saxton's River, Vt., where William H. Campbell, a regular Jacksonian democrat, was appointed postmaster four years ago. His wife is a republican, and has been his assistant postmaster, and has given such good satisfaction that on the recommendation of the citizens of the office of both parties, she has been appointed postmaster, and her husband is now the assistant.

In this view, the company seized itself to drill four times a week from now on until the encampment was removed.

Deputy Sheriff Lorrain removed him, Simmons, who shot and killed David Cook, from jail at Tower and took him to Tower mines, where he took an train for Two Lake, where he remained there until the passenger train arrived to take them to Duluth. This move was necessitated by the threat of lynching on the streets and in saloons. The fact that two fifty-pound cans of dynamite were in the car, and now up the jail, which is a solid iron structure. Simmons at his hearing pleaded to plead and waived examination.

All Want Sympathy.
Howard in the New York Press.

Everybody wants sympathy. As far as I can get at it, the woman can't live who doesn't yearn for a companionable ear into which she pour the story of joys and the tale of sorrows; and as for men, I met one who didn't utilize a favorable opportunity to show how right he was, what a fool he had been, what mistakes he had committed, what regrets shadowed his ex-

The celebrated Northwestern mixed paints at I. U. White's.

H. J. Spencer returned yesterday from a ten day's trip East.

A nice rain last night brightened up the appearance of vegetation.

John L. Smith is up from Minneapolis attending to business matters.

Peter Ort is building himself a fine brick residence on Fifth street south.

C. H. Closterman has gone to Montana to look after his mining interests.

There are probably 200 buildings in course of construction in Brainerd at the present time.

The rumor that Peter Ahear had been burned to death in the Seattle fire proved to be a false one.

The railroad picnic occurs next week on Saturday. A nice programme has been arranged.

Capt. Capistran has resigned his position with the register of deeds and returned to his home in Moorhead.

F. M. Cable will open a drug store in the building now occupied by O. Hamlin as a saloon about the first of July.

Gusta, a four year old child of John Olson, died at her father's home on Sixth street south of scarlet fever Wednesday.

The fellows who set fire to Mr. Closterman's wood land across the river are serving out a 25 days sentence for their fun.

N. W. Wheatley, and a party of six others from Brainerd, spent Sunday at McDonald Lake, bass fishing. —Farrar Bulletin.

The round house heretofore located at Little Falls is being removed to Staples from that place. It will contain fourteen stalls.

W. D. McKay, of Brainerd, is smiling upon his friends and acquaintances in St. Paul to-day. But his is not one of those famous Tim Byrnes sort, however.—News.

Geo. N. Day received a telegram announcing the serious illness of his father on Saturday and he started immediately for the East.

The St. Cloud Band took the first prize at the state tournament Tuesday. It is needless to state that the Brainerd band was not a competitor.

Cards have been issued announcing the wedding of Mr. Harry Brooks and Miss Effie Halsted to take place at St. Paul's Episcopal church on the evening of June 20th.

It is about time arrangements were being completed for our Fourth of July celebration. The Gun Club are getting their tournament in shape and there should be other attractions.

Mrs. A. W. Kennedy, a sister of M. T. Kennedy, will be removed to her home in Brainerd, Minn., on Monday. She is dangerously ill, and fears are entertained for her recovery. She will be with her mother and receive medical attendance from their old physician.—Duluth Herald.

A grand banquet was given at the Temple Wednesday night by Asa-Commodore No. 16, Knights Templar. Grand Commander J. A. Schlener, of Minneapolis, was in attendance and inspected the Commandery.

John Kennedy, now with Campbell & Smith, will open a gent's furnishing store on Sixth street first of July, in the building now occupied by Jas. Frost. Mr. Kennedy is thoroughly conversant with the business and will undoubtedly step into a nice business on account of his wide acquaintance and popularity.

When a really good entertainment like that given by the Swedish Ladies Concert Co. occupies the opera house it seems as though the people endeavored to avoid going. But let an Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. strike the city, and there is scarcely seating capacity. We are informed that the Y. M. C. A. people are out something like $50 on their engagement with them.

The Democrat, of Little Falls, questions as to whether that city has 2,000 inhabitants because the dairy commissioner is after license from their milk dealers. It makes no difference whether a man sells a quart of milk a day or fifty gallons, he must be licensed, or stand the penalty if anyone desires to prosecute. In this city all the milk merchants have com-

Gene Smith was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. A. G. Gallup is visiting friends in the southern part of the state.

Albert Bulow, the Morrison county murderer, will be hung July 19th.

A. Dewey, of Brainerd newspaper fame, is now hunting for a life insurance company.

N. Schroeder has sold his saloon to James Dewar, the latter to take possession July 1st.

Ed. Mahan was in the city from the "cut-off" this week, and says there are 2,000 men at work on the new line.

Miss M. H. Hume, an aunt of Mrs. Pennell, has just arrived from Canada and will spend the summer in Brainerd.

R. R. Wise and wife and Mr. and Mrs. F. Greene, of this city, attended the opening of the Spalding house at Duluth Monday evening.

E. B. Wallace, recently from Toronto, has arrived in the city and will take a position with Koop Bros. in their grocery establishment.

There is a movement on foot to give Co. K a banquet on their return to Brainerd. The boys are deserving of any honors that can be bestowed.

The blueberry crop will probably not be more than half as large in this section this season as in former years on account of the rages of forest fires.

L. C. Jones, business manager of Newton Beers' "Lost in London" Co., was a caller yesterday. This company will occupy the opera house the 19th.

The Gun Club are getting their matters in shape for the tournament on the Fourth, and will in all probability attract a large crowd to this city on that day.

J. C. Atherton has bought the L shaped piece of property facing Front and Fifth streets on which the store he occupies stands. The consideration was $3,500.

The Scandinavians will give a picnic at Sandy Lake on June 23rd. Andrew Lagerquist, F. G. Sundberg and W. Gustafson are the committee of arrangements.

A game of base ball has been arranged between the Hook & Ladder Co. and a picked nine which will take place at the driving park Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

We are informed by a local sport that a fight for a purse of $100 has been arranged between Win McGuire and a Fifth street saloon keeper, to take place July 19th, in Cass county, and that the money is already up.

Satisfactorily Settled.

The deal will undoubtedly be completed in a short time whereby the syndicate will become the owners of the dam property and the entire Swartz interests in that neighborhood. Mrs. Robinson has received $5000 of the $30,000 that she is to have, and there is probably nothing that can now happen to stop the improvements at the water power, although it is not expected that immediate work will be commenced, as Mr. H. C. Davis was in Brainerd last night and in consultation with Leon E. Lum told him that they were not quite ready to close the deal, and that he was on his way to the coast to see Mr. Oakes in regard to the matter that concerned the railroad interests—probably in regard to the N. P. pine. However, he left word for Mrs. Robinson that everything was all right and that she would get her money, but for her not to stop operations at her brick yard. That is exactly the way the matter stands at present, and although we may not see any active operations for some weeks, there is no doubt but that these things will all come. A good healthy growth will be worth more to Brainerd for time to come than a wild cat boom. The Weyerhaeuser Lumber Co., a firm with unlimited means, and probably one of the largest institutions in the United States of its kind, are interested in this deal, and their mill which is to be located here will employ from 400 to 500 men. Large bodies move slowly, and in a business transaction of this magnitude it takes time to complete all the details and get things in shape. Our people can congratulate themselves on the bright prospect for future prosperity.

Brainerd Gets It.

The next annual meeting of the State Fire Association will be held in Brainerd in June next, and our people can feel that they owe something to the delegates which were sent by the Brainerd department to Alexandria for securing the location of it. Dan McIntosh was elected president of the Association. A dispatch from that place to the Globe says:

The State Fire Association met to-day at the opera house, with 184 delegates and twenty visitors present. The forenoon session was taken up almost entirely by reports of committees and second vice president, R. O. Johnson, and others were called upon to give characteristic speeches to the boys. The afternoon session was devoted to a long discussion of the question prepared by the committee. Eleven topics were prepared with three papers to the topic. The session was rather protracted, but interesting, as the questions were of importance to firemen. The constitution was so amended as to provide for life and honorary members and several new ones were elected. The election of president brought on a very spirited contest between D. McIntosh, of Brainerd, and W. S. Elkins, of Rochester, the former proving victorious; therefore the next convention will be held at Brainerd, J. H. Nicolin, of Jordan, was elected first vice president, and Elkins, of Rochester, second vice president. During the noon intermission the delegates inspected the working of a new system of fire alarm invented by Theodore Johnson, of this place, and by resolution endorsed the same. At 8 o'clock the ladies were banqueted at the Lison house, after which they repaired to the town hall, where they gave themselves up to pleasure.

In addition to this the man who makes the poorest average during the day will be presented with a brooch-lioning shot gun by A. L. Hoffman, broker, which he values at $37.00.

Only When Off Duty.

The Pioneer Press says: The Third Regiment band of Brainerd is decidedly a good one, having considerably increased its proficiency since last year. W. M. Dressell is an admirable leader, and Drum Major Hastings is not to be sneezed at, except when he is off duty.

F. of this city have arranged for a grand ball at the rink this (Friday) evening, the proceeds to be given to the unfortunate sufferers at Johnstown and vicinity who have been left penniless and in great destitution by the late floods. An Old Steamboat Man Dead.

A telegram was received here this afternoon by H. F. Leopold of the death of his uncle, A. F. Leopold, in Chicago to-day, of Bright's disease. Mr. Leopold was one of the originators and heaviest owners in the Lake Michigan and Lake Superior line of steamers plying between Duluth and Chicago, and was exceedingly well known in this city. He was here about three weeks ago and was then in apparent good health. The line Mr. Leopold was associated with is the oldest running boats into Duluth. —Duluth Herald.

The deceased was also an uncle of George and Al Leopold of this city.

A Pound Social.

The following was received to-day for publication last week:

"The numerous friends, consisting of the ladies of the congregation, of the Second congregational church, East Brainerd, and the surrounding residents of that side the bridge, held a pound social at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. H. O. Lawrence, on Wednesday evening last. A grand success rewarded those ladies for a considerable number attended and enjoyed an hour or two with their beloved pastor, who in return thanked all present in a few well chosen words, expressing his gratification and surprise at the unexpected storming of his domicile. It is hoped he will long be spared to minister among them."

Januscheck.

Last evening a large number of admirers of profound and subtle art attending assembled at the Columbia to witness the world renowned tragedienne Januscheck in a grand production, a dramatization of Sir Walter Scott's novel of Guy Mannering, or "Meg Merrilies." The character of Meg Merrilies is one calling for an artist thoroughly schooled and educated in the most difficult and arduous lines of professional labor and gifted with the genius peculiarly adapted to the interpretation of complex characters. Being thus qualified in the higher ranks of dramatic art, Mne. Januscheck is eminently fitted to wear the mantle of the late Charlotte Cushman. She has a voice that thrills and electrifies, and by its pleading tones of anguish she wins from the strongest heart emotion and sympathy. She holds her audience spell-bound by a more than wonderful magnetism and power of eloquence. After a long career she is still the true representative of the heroic in drama, still the great artist whose methods are models. She is an actress who combines in her own proper person an infinite variety of dramatic qualities. She has a power and emotional force greater than Ristori, a nervous and fiery intensity equal to Rachel, and a skill for elaboration and finish only equaled by Bernhardt. The story is well known to all readers of English fiction.—Chicago Telegram.

At Sleeper opera house Saturday evening, June 15th. Don't fail to see the great tragedienne.

"Sweet Girl Graduates."

On Friday evening of last week the third annual commencement exercises of the Brainerd High School took place at Sleeper Opera House, and very entertaining they were. Rev. Father Watry opened with prayer, which was followed by the Glee Club in song. Prof. Gould, principal of the high school, delivered an interesting and able address and his remarks were followed very closely by the audience. At the close of his remarks Miss Katie Cannan, a graduate, delivered her commencement essay, the topic being "The Mission of the Public School," and which reflected credit to herself and satisfaction to her many friends. After a song, "An Old Letter" by Miss Mamie Smith, the other graduate Miss Grace Clark read her essay on "The Student and the State," which was an excellent effort. The young ladies were then presented their diplomas by Prof. Wilson with fitting remarks, and the exercises closed with a song by the Glee Club.

Provided—That any applicant who may have been a resident of said districts between the years 1870 and 1875, and who for any cause removed from and is now a resident of said districts shall be eligible to membership."

The prime object of the movement is to "promote and cultivate good fellowship so readily required by reviewing with each other the pleasant or disagreeable incidents of fourteen years or more residence in the City of the Pines or vicinity."

Brainerd Gets It.

The next annual meeting of the State Fire Association will be held in Brainerd in June next, and our people can feel that they owe something to the delegates which were sent by the Brainerd department to Alexandria for securing the location of it. Dan McIntosh was elected president of the Association. A dispatch from that place to the Globe says:

The State Fire Association met to-day at the opera house, with 184 delegates and twenty visitors present. The forenoon session was taken up almost entirely by reports of committees and second vice president, R. O. Johnson, and others were called upon to give characteristic speeches to the boys. The afternoon session was devoted to a long discussion of the question prepared by the committee. Eleven topics were prepared with three papers to the topic. The session was rather protracted, but interesting, as the questions were of importance to firemen. The constitution was so amended as to provide for life and honorary members and several new ones were elected. The election of president brought on a very spirited contest between D. McIntosh, of Brainerd, and W. S. Elkins, of Rochester, the former proving victorious; therefore the next convention will be held at Brainerd, J. H. Nicolin, of Jordan, was elected first vice president, and Elkins, of Rochester, second vice president.
